

[INTRO SEQUENCE]

Eric, standing straight up in front and speaking directly to the camera. Slouching beside Eric is JOE, who looks identical to Eric except he's wearing a different colored shirt and a snapback hat.

ERIC

Hello, and welcome! My name is Eric Rustum, and I am, or was... a senior at Freestyle Academy.

Eric stops to acknowledge Joe's presence.

ERIC

Oh, and this is Joe, he helps out around here.

JOE

Sup!

ERIC

Hopefully, right now I am speaking to a room of current Freestyle seniors, so that must mean you are starting your Senior Narrative Project!

Joe winces.

ERIC

What?

JOE

Nah.. it's nothing, it's nothing.

Joe looks at the camera.

JOE

(softly)

I'm praying for you guys.

Eric looks back and forth between Joe and the camera.

ERIC

Wha-? Hey! Okay guys it's not that bad! Look at me, look at me. It's not that bad.

JOE

You say that bro, but then you actually do it...

Eric looks shocked. He sighs.

ERIC

Okay... I will admit this is a beast of a project. I'm sure Mr. T has hyped this up ever since you joined Freestyle.

Joe nods.

ERIC

There is a lot, and I mean a lot of pre-production, production, and post-production that goes into just a 10 minute film. You will shed tears, sweat, and maybe even blood during this process.

Joe gives Eric a look.

ERIC

But hey, it's gonna be just fine! I am here to teach you some personal tips that I learned back when I produced my senior narrative. I am passing all of my knowledge onto you! And if you're nervous, and you are not sure you can do this project, I'm standing here to tell you that you can! I believe in you. You can do—

JOE

Yeah! Let's goooo! Woohoo! You got this! Yes!

Eric is thrown off by Joe's interjection. Joe stops, but is still visibly hyped.

ERIC

Yeah... and hopefully when you're done watching these videos, you'll be better prepared going into this massive project. The most important things to remember throughout this whole process, are that it's okay to be stressed, you should rely on your fellow classmates for help, and get the shot!

JOE

But really the most important thing to remember is to have fun!

ERIC

Oh yeah, and have fun. Well that kind of comes with getting the shot.

JOE

The last rule in anything is always to have fun, bro.

ERIC

Actually, I don't really know if that's...

Beat. Eric starts mumbling. Joe has a fat grin on his face.

ERIC

Let's get started with the Pre-Production Phase!
