

Wide shot of a large cityscape under a downpour of rain. Suddenly cuts to a foot splashing in a puddle as they run away from someone. The person running is a teen with messy hair wearing a torn tee shirt and worn out jeans. He is holding a paper bag and he is running away from two men dressed in black. The teen is named Jeff. Jeff turns a corner and ducks into an alleyway. The two men chasing him run past the alley. Jeff turns around to walk through the alley when he sees a kid. Jeff gestures for the kid to stay quiet and he walks past the kid. Once Jeff passes the kid, the kid morphs into one of the guys in black and then he runs after tackles Jeff to the ground. The bag flies out of Jeff's hand and onto the ground. They struggle and grunt as they roll around on the ground. The guy in black eventually gets on top and he pins down Jeff as he pulls out a knife. Jeff sees it and tries to grab it, but his arms are pinned down. The guy in black goes to stab him, but he is tackled off by a man wearing a patched up trench coat. The person in the trench coat is named Quilt. Quilt has no powers, but he has a jacket with pockets that let him pull out any item that would fit in the pocket out of them without it actually being in his pocket. The guy with the knife falls to the ground and drops it. Quilt pins him down and pulls out handcuffs from a pocket inside his coat and puts them on the guy in black. The guy fights back and manages to get to his feet after being cuffed, he starts to run away, but Quilt pulls out a taser and tazes the guy running. Quilt helps Jeff up and asks if Jeff knows where the bag is. Jeff says he dropped it, Quilt looks for it, finds it, then picks up the bag and slips it into a pocket in his jacket. He then stands up and goes to say something to Jeff, but he sees something behind Jeff, but before Jeff can turn around Quilt tackles him as what looks like a cannonball flies over them and breaks a hole in a wall behind them. Jeff looks up and sees the other person that was chasing him. They are holding a small device in one hand. The guy holds out his other hand and the cannonball that flew towards Jeff returns to the man's hand. Quilt stands up and pulls Jeff up to his feet. They both dash through the hole in the wall and start running. After running for a bit they turn a corner into a busy street. Quilt starts walking with the crowd. Jeff follows close behind him. Jeff asks him who the guys chasing them are and Quilt says to stop following him. Jeff says that he wants the bag back because it's probably worth a lot of money, Quilt says that Jeff needs to mind his own business and forget that this ever happened. When suddenly the cannonball flies threw a window next to Jeff. It hits Jeff in the side and sends him flying. Quilt turns around and pulls out another taser from his jacket and looks into the store that the ball came flying out of. The guy who was chasing them earlier comes out looking at his device and he runs after Jeff. As he goes to tackle Jeff, Quilt tazes the guy and he falls to the ground. Quilt gags him, ties him to a poll, and then takes the device from him. Quilt immediately recognizes the device as something that can track people with powers. There are two blips on the radar, the guy tied to the poll and Jeff. Quilt rushed over to Jeff only to see that he is unconscious with sparks of electricity dancing on his fingertips. Jeff wakes up in a mostly empty warehouse with a sling on his shoulder, he gets up abruptly and looks around. There is no one around so he gets up and he walks around. Quilt walks out from behind a storage box. He introduces himself and explains that the guys chasing them are in a gang that is trying to kill all non-powered people and the thing in the bag is a part they need for a device that will help them with this goal. Jeff asks where they are and Quilt tells him that it is his the HQ of his gang. Jeff asks why he is here and Quilt tells him that he was injured and that his injuries needed treatment. Quilt says that he is the leader of a small group of people with powers who are trying to stop the rival gang. Five other gang members come out from hiding and they introduce themselves to Jeff, their names are; Steve, Tom, Belle, and Paul. Steve can teleport, Tom is super light and he doesn't make any noise, Belle can control sound, and Paul can extend his limbs really far. Quilt explains to Jeff that the reason he was targeted by the guy chasing Quilt was because they were tracking people with powers. Because Quilt doesn't have powers the tracker was picking up Jeff in the crowd. Jeff is shook and doesn't want to believe that he has powers.
